What comes to mind when you think of innovation?

A breakthrough product that creates an entirely new market? Perhaps a unique approach that meets your untapped needs? How about a streamlined business process that reduces your operating costs or brings your best ideas to market in record time?

Innovation is all of this ... and more.

So, it's not surprising that three out of four senior executives in a 2006 Business Week-Boston Consulting Group survey named innovation as one of their top-three priorities. Yes, innovation is important to your business. It helps you grow sales, increase your profits and be more competitive.

At 3M, we believe that if you can imagine innovation ... and if you can experience it, you can do it! Visit the 3M Innovation Center

The 3M Innovation Center is a one-of-a-kind facility, designed to showcase how we make uncommon connections that result in unique solutions for you. We invite you to spend 90 minutes immersed in innovation. It's an extraordinary journey into how we ignite the spark of innovation on your behalf.
